

The Indian Arts Circle of New Orleans

presents

Fire & Ash

A dramatic theater production, first of its kind, by JustUs Repertory from India

The theme of Fire and Ash is the myth of Lord Siva and its relevance to understanding human psyche and gaining a deeper knowledge of human existence in modern times.

Hindu scriptures regard Lord Siva as the Supreme Being. He is the benefactor and the slayer, form and formless and a patron of the Arts. Fire and Ash aims to remind us that creativity is indispensable not only to transcend the world, but also for sheer survival on earth.

Dr. Gowri Narayan, Theater Director, will narrate, Savita Narasimhan will provide vocals, Anjana Anand will enact the stories through dance. The play is inspired by the ancient scriptures, and poems written by saints and poets from six different linguistic regions of India. Since its inception in 2005, JustUs Repertory has staged several productions at sold out venues earning rave reviews in India and the U.S. Stage Management is provided by Baby Charles Arokia Raj.

Admission:

Sponsor (Reserved section) - $50

General - $20

Students with valid current ID - $5

CONTACT

Deepak Bhatnagar	504-464-6361
Vijaya Devarajan	504-394-1708
Urmila Kamath	504-473-6484
Subhash Kulkarni	504-887-7934
Suki Pramdar	504-606-5938
Chithra Prasankumar	504-813-9334
Jayashree Rao	504-392-2045
Sudhanva Wadgaonkar	504-885-5160

Sunday, October 25, 2015, 6 pm
Nunemaker Hall, Loyola University
New Orleans, LA

For advance ticket purchase, email us at iacno@cox.net or call 504-606-5938
More information is available on our website www.iacneworleans.com

Sponsored by the Indian Arts Circle of New Orleans & Co-sponsored by Loyola University College of Fine Arts (Montage Performance Series)

